

Book V - Market infrastructures

Title VI - Central depositories of financial instruments

Chapter unique - Central depositories and payment and settlement systems for financial instruments

General regulation of the AMF

Article 560-1 into force since 11 September 2019

DISCLAIMER : Information boxes have been inserted within the General Regulation. They allow for a direct access to the relevant European regulations on the subject matter.

The user will be redirected to the European regulations as initially published in the Official Journal of the European Union and to the subsequent corrigenda, if any. The AMF does not guarantee the completeness of the redirections to these European regulations and corrigenda.

The boxes are located at the most relevant level of the GRAMF depending on the provision of the EU regulations to which they refer (Book, Title, Chapter, Section, etc.).

This additional material is provided for information purposes only and does not constitute a regulatory instrument. The AMF shall not be held liable or responsible for any harm resulting directly or indirectly from the provision or the use of these information boxes.

Article 560-1

The central depository, in connection with the issues for which it provides the notary function, shall:

- record in a specific account the financial securities accepted for its transactions;
- where its approval includes ancillary service 2 (b) in Section B of the Annex to Regulation 909/2014 of 23 July 2014, take all steps necessary to enable the exercising of rights attached to the financial instruments recorded in current accounts;
- transmit registration information regarding holders of financial instruments between persons with access to the central securities depository and the issuing legal entities;
- issues certificates representing French-law financial instruments for use abroad.

The operating rules of the central securities depository shall define how these provisions are applied.

✚ Version into force since 11 September 2019

✚ Version into force from 29 October 2018 to 10 September 2019