Title I - Initial coin offering

Chapter II - Approval of the information document

Section 2 - Amended information document

General regulation of the AMF

Article 712-11 into force since 05 June 2019

DISCLAIMER : Information boxes have been inserted within the General Regulation. They allow for a direct access to the relevant European regulations on the subject matter.

The user will be redirected to the European regulations as initially published in the Official Journal of the European Union and to the subsequent corrigenda, if any. The AMF does not guarantee the completeness of the redirections to these European regulations and corrigenda.

The boxes are located at the most relevant level of the GRAMF depending on the provision of the EU regulations to which they refer (Book, Title, Chapter, Section, etc.).

This additional material is provided for information purposes only and does not constitute a regulatory instrument. The AMF shall not be held liable or responsible for any harm resulting directly or indirectly from the provision or the use of these information boxes.

Article 712-11

Any change or new fact liable to have a significant influence on the investment decision of any potential subscriber which occurs between the issuance of approval and the close of the offering shall be described in an amended information document produced by the token issuer and approved by the AMF.

The issuer shall immediately inform investors on its website of the filing of a draft amended document with the AMF.

The changes made in the amended information document shall not extend the six-month time limit referred to in Article 712-10.

The token issuer who produces an amended information document shall ensure that the order of the information appearing there is consistent with that of the original information document.

The AMF shall give its approval on the amended information document within a time limit of seven working days under the conditions referred to in Articles 712-8 and 712-9.

This amended information document shall be published and disseminated in the same conditions as the original information document.
