The fight against money laundering and terrorist financing (AML-CFT) is one of the AMF’s main supervisory priorities. The Fifth Money-Laundering Directive has been transposed into French law at the beginning of 2020. It sets out a series of measures to fight against terrorist financing more effectively and guarantee improved transparency of financial transactions. Below is a brief reminder and guide on the reference legislation.

The Fifth AML-CFT Directive in brief

The Fifth Directive was proposed by the European Commission in July 2016, in the wake of the 2015 Paris terrorist attacks and the revelations of the “Panama Papers” scandal, and sets out a series of measures aimed at combating terrorist financing more effectively and guaranteeing more transparency in financial transactions.

The Fifth Directive (EU Directive 2018/843 of 30 May 2018) has been in force since 9 July 2018. It has been transposed into French law by an order at the beginning of 2020. It aims to:

- Make legal entities and legal structures more transparent by extending access to beneficial owner registers
- Harmonise the enhanced due diligence measures to be implemented for business relationships or transactions that involve high-risk third countries
- Specify the measures to be implemented in the event of a creation of a remote business relationship
- Provide for certain virtual asset service providers to be regulated under the AML-CTF rules
