REQUIREMENTS UNDER THE EUROPEAN MONEY MARKET FUND REGULATION

Requirements for stress test scenarios under Article 28 of the European Money Market Fund Regulation

These guidelines are intended to encourage common, uniform and consistent application of the provisions in Article 28(1) of the MMF Regulation. They establish common reference parameters for stress test scenarios, taking into account the following factors specified in the MMF Regulation:

a) hypothetical changes in the level of liquidity of the assets held in the portfolio of the MMF;

b) hypothetical changes in the level of credit risk of the assets held in the portfolio of the MMF, including credit events and rating events;

c) hypothetical movements of the interest rates and exchange rates;

d) hypothetical levels of redemption;

e) hypothetical widening or narrowing of spreads among indexes to which interest rates of portfolio securities are tied;

f) hypothetical macro systemic shocks affecting the economy as a whole.

In accordance with the Money Market Fund Regulation, these guidelines will be updated at least every year taking into account the latest market developments.

Section 4.8 of the ESMA guidelines states that the results of stress test scenarios should be included in the reports sent by management companies to the AMF under Article 37 of the MMF Regulation. However, the use of specific stress test scenarios, in application of the MMF Regulation, shall not replace the more general obligation to conduct market resistance and liquidity tests as part of overall risk management procedures, under Articles 321-81, 318-41, 318-44, 411-79 and 422-58 of the AMF General Regulation for UCITS and AIFs.

Requirements for reporting to competent authorities under Article 37 of the European Money Market Fund Regulation

These guidelines are intended to establish consistent, efficient and effective supervisory practices and to ensure the common, uniform and consistent application of Article 37 of the Money Market Fund Regulation and the Implementing Regulation on reporting. In particular, they aim to provide guidance on the contents of the fields of the reporting template included in the Annex of Implementing Regulation (EU) 2017/708 on reporting.
