The Autorité des Marchés Financiers updates the list of unauthorised websites offering binary options trading.

The AMF is publishing a new updated list of websites offering binary options trading, for which no authorised investment services provider could be clearly identified.

The Autorité des Marchés Financiers (AMF) is once again warning retail investors against aggressive internet advertising campaigns for binary option trading¹ announcing very high yields in very short periods of time:

- new websites for which no authorised investment services provider could be clearly identified have been added to the list;
- while those sites that have ceased all activities on French territory further to the last news release have been removed from the list.

Here is the new extended list which cancels and supersedes that published on 24 October 2012.

NB: these websites may change very quickly. This list is not intended to be exhaustive.

As a general rule, before committing yourself, you should always check that the financial intermediary offering or recommending such investments features on the list of financial institutions authorised to do business in France (<http://www.amf-france.org> > Check an authorisation). Any unauthorised intermediaries run the risk of criminal sanctions.

If the intermediary in question is not on these lists, we strongly recommend that you do not respond to their offers.

If you have any questions or queries, go to our website <http://www.amf-france.org> or contact the AMF Investor Information team (AMF Epargne Info Service) on 01 53 45 62 00, Mondays to Fridays 9am to 5pm.
