The AMF Household Savings Observatory Newsletter n°38

This letter presents the main findings of two studies conducted by the AMF. The first relates to the legibility of disclosure documents on the costs of financial investments. The second study, conducted for “La Semaine de l'épargne salariale”, looks at employees' perceptions and attitudes about employee saving schemes. In addition, the Letter publishes figures on the number of individual investors in financial instruments in 2018 and 2019.
