The AMF warns the public against Vuelex

After receiving complaints from investors, the AMF is warning the public against the activities of Vuelex, a company that is offering unauthorised investment services and financial investment advice in France on its website <https://www.vuelex.com/> URL = [https://www.vuelex.com/].

Vuelex is offering advisory management and discretionary management services to retail investors. The AMF however warns that Vuelex does not have any legal status authorising it to offer investors in France financial investment advice or third-party portfolio management services, nor any other investment services, for that matter.

The AMF recommends that investors do not respond to solicitations from persons attached to this entity and do not pass on the information to third parties in any form whatsoever.

Lastly, the AMF reminds investors and individuals to follow these safety guidelines before making any investment:

- No advertising materials should make you overlook the fact that high returns always involve high risk;
- Learn as much as you can about the company or intermediary trying to sell you a product (authorisation/certification, company history, location of head offices, etc.);
- Only invest in a product you understand;

- Ask yourself how, and by whom, the purchase price or selling price of the advertised product is set, and find out the precise terms and timeline for selling the product, especially in cases where the product invests in an asset class with low liquidity.
